TERMS

a) Return Procedure

It is the customer's responsibility to return the rented item and pay for the shipping following rental. Each Rental returned must be accompanied with Renters full details. The Rental will not end until the goods are checked in by G COMM. G COMM are not responsible for delays in checking in if customer details are not enclosed on return.

b) Return to Company Office Other Than Point of Origin.

Any Rented equipment may be returned to any G COMM office irrespective of the original point of Rental, at which day the Rental rates will cease.

c) Descriptive Matter/Suitability for Use

All descriptive specifications, drawings and particulars of weights and dimensions issued by us are approximate only and are intended to present a general idea of the goods to which they refer. The Renter shall satisfy himself/herself that the equipment and services attached thereto are suitable for the intended requirement(s).

d) Special Material

Orders for goods which are provided to special requirements are accepted only on the condition that Rental period is not reduced, and the minimum period is to apply.

e) Prices

All published price lists are subject to alteration or withdrawal without notice.

f) Terms of Payment

Preparation charges if applicable and the first Rental period is invoiced on delivery, thereafter monthly. All payments are to be pre-paid by Credit Card or 30 days from invoice, date subject to status. (A late payment penalty of 2% per month or part month applies.)

g) Insurance for Goods in Transit

Insurance for Goods in Transit is to be arranged by the Renter unless G COMM. makes freight arrangements on the Renter's behalf, in which case standard insurance options will be taken out which may increase the overall freight/insurance charge.

h) Despatch

The day given for despatch will date from our formal acknowledgement of a written order. We will use our best endeavours to despatch on the date given, but will accept no liability to do so.

i) Legal Construction

As G COMM is a UK based company with overseas affiliates and subsidiaries, for the avoidance of doubt this contract shall in all respects be constructed to operate as an English contract and the parties hereto hereby submit themselves to the jurisdiction of the English Courts.

j) Cancellation

Once orders have been accepted by us they cannot be cancelled except with our written agreement. In this event we reserve the right to raise a cancellation charge, which will be 20% of the prior agreed Rental value of the minimum Rental period.

k) Rental Charges

Rental charges apply 1 day from day of departure from Company to day of return and in the event of damage Rental rates continue until the unit is returned. Missing accessories and repairs will be charged at our standard labour rate plus parts and components at standard rates. In the event of loss, hire charges cease on the day written notification is received, and an invoice to the full replacement value, as per manufacturer's price list, or prespecified equipment value whichever is the lower will be issued. A day is defined as all or part of a 24 hour period commencing at midnight.

l) Airtime Charges

It is the Renter's responsibility to pay for all Airtime generated from the mobile during the Rental period irrespective of the user. Except for pre-pay systems, any security deposits are returned after the Airtime is calculated which may be delayed depending upon the satellite system and Gateway/Land Earth Station concerned.

m) Prior Inspection

Inspection at Company premises is invited prior to despatch where familiarisation and voice call tests will be provided free of charge. Consultancy on specific data applications can also be provided but may attract a standard engineer's hourly charge rate. All equipment is tested and proven to be operational prior to despatch.

n) Equipment Value

A value for equipment replacement will be specified prior to any Rental contract.

o) References

Company reserves the right to request references and may seek bank/personal guarantees prior to despatch of equipment. Any contract for Rental is at Company's option to accept once credit arrangements/payment confidence has been sought. A security deposit may be requested.

p) Regulations in Country of Use

It is the Renters responsibility to observe the regulations applicable in the country of use of any equipment supplied by Company. G COMM cannot be held responsible for equipment being seized by authorities or its agents and any subsequent costs incurred will be at the expense of the Renter.

Furthermore, the Renter will be liable to pay G COMM the value of any equipment lost due to the above situation. Rental will also continue to apply to impounded goods. The Renter shall bear any customs or other like duties which may be payable in respect of the equipment, or spare parts therefore at any port outside the United Kingdom; and where the equipment is to be installed outside the United Kingdom the Renter shall bear the cost of packing, freight and insurance by the Supplier in sending the equipment to the place of installation.

q) Nature of Contract

Any Rental arrangement will be considered an equipment Rental contract and Rental rates are to continue until the equipment is returned whether operational or not.

r) Purchase Option

A purchase option applies in that during any one period of continuous hire once any minimum has been exceeded then the Renter may at his option purchase the equipment at the equipment value stated at commencement but with 30% of the Rental value deducted. The purchase option must be confirmed in writing and payment made by return preferably by direct bank transfer as Rental rates will continue until purchase funds are received; the credit for 30% the Rental value will then be issued. Title passes on the day of receipt of funds, as advised by Company.
